

Our mission is to use technology and teamwork to make world-class state-of-the-art healthcare advice from US and UK based consultants available to the doorstep of people and to ensure no one is deprived of the benefits of evidence-based contemporary medicine by constraints of means and physical distance.

Providers of unbiased second opinion on your medical condition, for your added peace of mind

We want to ensure that every patient has the opportunity to seek that extra peace of mind and agree to their recommended treatment with the confidence and clarity that “this is the best for me”.

Unbiased providers you can trust

When faced with a medical diagnosis for the first time, it is natural to start worrying about the future. You may want to know how your condition will affect your career, your family and your quality of life. You may start worrying about your diagnosis and wondering what treatment is best for you.

We understand your worries, and whilst we cannot provide the answer to all your problems, we can at least ease the most important worries you have - those regarding your medical diagnosis.

We aim to help you understand your medical condition and ensure you have been given an accurate diagnosis and are aware of all possible treatment options. We can help you choose the most suitable option. The right diagnosis leads to the right treatment and peace of mind for you.

Partners through your medical journey

We are providers of unbiased second opinion on your medical condition, a peace of mind

We aim to provide medical advice remotely using digital technology in order to save expense, time and inconvenience. We will ensure the advice given is independent of any bias based on financial, personal or any other consideration by making sure the consultants working for the company have no direct links with providers in India.

The medical advice we provide will be up-to-date and in keeping with the best practice in developed countries by employing well qualified and positioned consultants working in well-reputed organisations across a wide range of specialties. This advice will be supplemented with links, patient information leaflets and evidence based pathways, in an effort to empower our patients.

We will ensure our service is easily accessible by ensuring that many different forms of communication such as online access, e-mail, phone, WhatsApp etc are made available to users to suit their individual circumstances. Your data will remain confidential and secure throughout the process via the safeguards in place within our digital platform.

What are the benefits for me?

We can help provide you with answers to the following questions and more.

Am I being investigated appropriately?

Are my scans appropriate for my medical condition? Will they help make a diagnosis?

Is my diagnosis correct?

Have all of the appropriate studies and test been completed and interpreted properly? Are there other diagnoses that should be considered?

What options do I have?

Is the treatment plan correct? Is it providing the desired results? Have other alternatives been considered?

Is the treatment on offer the best for me?

Second opinions do not have to disagree with the existing diagnosis. They can support or expand on it, and give you further reassurance

Frequently asked questions

Why should I seek a second opinion? There are several reasons why a person may seek a second opinion.

- 88% of medical 'second opinions' give a different diagnosis (Mayo Clinic study)
- Doctors are human and may get it wrong
- Your problems may be complex, and may require additional investigation
- There may be many choices available, and this may lead to a dilemma about which treatment to choose
- It is natural to have doubts and want further reassurance from an independent expert
- Having multiple doctors review a case leads to a more accurate diagnosis and better outcome.
